AND RELATED COUNTERCLAIM

Case No. 2:11-cv-00012-JCM-PAL

DEFENDANTS' UNOPPOSED
 MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE
 UNDER SEAL

Pursuant to Local Rule 10-5 and Paragraph 9 of the Stipulated Protective Order, Dkt. 39, Defendants Sprint Solutions, Inc., Nextel Finance Company, Sprint United Management Company, Nextel of California, Inc., Nextel Boost of California, LLC, and Nextel Communications, Inc. (collectively, “Sprint”) hereby request that portions of its Reply in Support of their Motion In Limine 3 and Exhibits A, and D-F, attached to the Reply Declaration of Christopher Schenck in Support of Defendants’ Motions In Limine Nos. 3 & 6, which will be electronically filed under seal contemporaneously with this request, be sealed by this Honorable Court.. This Motion for Leave is based on the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the papers and pleadings on file, and any oral argument the Court may entertain. Additionally, counsel for Sprint has conferred with counsel for Plaintiff who indicated that the Plaintiff will not oppose the current Motion.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

On May 20, 2011, the Court entered the parties’ Stipulated Protective Order. See Dkt. 39. On May 24, 2012, the Court entered a Stipulation for Amendment to Stipulated Protective Order. See Dkt. 99. The Stipulated Protective Order allowed for the production of documents and information that contain technical or business information of a competitive significance. Dkt. 39 at ¶6. The Stipulated Protective Order also protected non-parties that provided confidential documents and/or information in the case. Id. at ¶15. Under the protective order, the parties, as well as non-parties such as Motorola Mobility, Motorola Solutions, and Qualcomm, produced documents, provided information during discovery, and permitted the parties to produce information and documents subject to confidentiality restrictions. Much of this information was designated as “Confidential” in accordance with the provisions in the Stipulated Protective Order as the information involved proprietary technical information with respect to the iDEN technology at issue.

Previously in this matter, Sprint filed two Motions for Summary Judgment and replies in support of those Motions. Both of those Motions involved materials that either the parties, or non-parties, deemed “Confidential” under the Stipulated Protective Order, including

1 materials concerning how iDEN, and devices that use iDEN, operate. Thus, under paragraph 2 9 of the Stipulated Protective Order, Sprint filed a motion to seal certain materials involved in 3 those Motions for Summary Judgment illustrating that “compelling reasons” existed for such 4 materials to remain under seal. See Dkts. 140, 156. The Court granted those Motions. See 5 Dkts. 157, 159. In granting those Motions to Seal, the Court found that “Defendants have 6 stated compelling reasons for maintaining the confidentiality of documents filed in 7 connection with their Motions for Summary Judgment.” Dkt. 157 at 2. See also Dkt. 159 at 8 1. Similarly, in granting prior Motion to Seal in conjunction with previous motions in limine, 9 the Court found that the expert report of Michele Riley contains confidential financial 10 information, and that good cause was shown to seal such information. Dkt. 212 at 2-3.

11 II. LEGAL ARGUMENT AND ANALYSIS

12 The documents filed under seal should remain sealed because it contain confidential
13 information and trade secrets regarding the technology at issue. In the case of dispositive 14 motions, in which similar, if not the same, materials were deemed to remain under seal by 15 this Court, see Dkts. 157, 159, “compelling reasons” must be shown in order to seal the 16 records. Kamakana v. City and County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1180 (9th Cir. 2006). As 17 described above, the Court found that the “compelling reasons” test was met to maintain 18 under seal documents relating to the iDEN technology at issue.

19 The information Sprint seeks to maintain under seal here meets the “good cause” and 20 “compelling reasons” test. Documents relating to the development and operation of iDEN are 21 clearly proprietary and subject to protection. Another district court, in conjunction with a 22 theft of trade secrets case involving documents concerning iDEN technology, made specific 23 findings of fact that the iDEN technology is proprietary and not readily available to the 24 public. See U.S. v. Hanjuan Jin, 833 F. Supp. 2d 977, 982, 991 (N.D. Ill. 2012) (“iDEN is a
25 proprietary standard for cellular telecommunications technology developed by Motorola 26 [and] is not publicly accessible.”). Maintaining the confidentiality of such technology is 27 essential to not only third parties that developed the technology such as Motorola Solutions 28 and Motorola Mobility, but also the companies that have contracted with these companies to

1 use the technology and have agreed to maintain its confidentiality, such as Sprint.¹ In fact,
2 the Court filed its Order on the Motion for Summary Judgment involving the iDEN
3 technology at issue under seal. See Dkt. 160.

4 The redactions in Defendants' Reply in Support of their Motion In Limine 3 and 5 Exhibits A, and D-F, attached to the Reply Declaration of Christopher Schenck in Support of 6 Defendants' Motions In Limine Nos. 3 & 6, thereto relate to (1) the functionality of the 7 proprietary iDEN technology, how iDEN devices that use such technology operate, and the 8 development of the iDEN technology, and thus should be maintained under seal, and (2)
9 competitive financial information. The information has been designated as "Confidential"
10 under the Stipulated Protective Order because the producing party considers the information 11 to be proprietary and subject to protection. The Court's prior orders with respect to the 12 Motions to Seal in conjunction with the Motions for Summary Judgment and previous 13 motions in limine, see, e.g., Dkt. 157, 159, 212, as well as the Order from the Northern 14 District of Illinois discussed above, illustrate that Sprint has made the requisite particularized 15 showing of good cause with respect to these documents.

16 Due to the confidential, proprietary, and private nature of these documents and 17 information, public disclosure could result in improper use and could put not only Defendants
18 Sprint, but also non-parties Motorola Mobility, LLC and Motorola Solutions, Inc. at a 19 competitive disadvantage in the marketplace. Furthermore, the public has little to no interest 20 in these documents and information in the context of this patent litigation matter brought by a 21 non-practicing entity. Considering the information at issue, there is comparatively little value 22 to the general public in terms of enhancing its "understanding of the judicial process." See 23 Kamakana, 447. F.3d at 1179. Simply put, there is no harm to the public if they do not have 24 access to the information Sprint seeks to seal. Therefore, this Court should enter an order to 25 seal the document and information and not place it on the Court's docket.

26
27
28 ¹ The agreements with these companies contain non-disclosure and confidentiality obligations.

1 III. CONCLUSION

2 Because portions of Defendants' Reply in Support of their Motion In Limine 3 and 3 Exhibits A, and D-F, attached to the Reply Declaration of Christopher Schenck in Support of 4 Defendants' Motions In Limine Nos. 3 & 6, contain confidential information regarding the 5 technology used by Sprint for Push-to-Talk that is at issue in this lawsuit, and financial 6 information related to the same, and because Plaintiff does not oppose the current Motion, 7 Sprint respectfully requests that the Court enter an Order that these materials remain sealed.

8 Dated: August 18, 2015

Respectfully submitted,
